Office of the Attorney General
Washington, D. C. 20530

[redacted]

I have received your request for relief from federal firearm disabilities under 18 U.S.C. § 925(c). That provision authorizes me to grant relief from the disabilities imposed by 18 U.S.C. § 922(g) on possessing, shipping, transporting, or receiving firearms or ammunition where the applicant has established that "the circumstances regarding the disability, and the applicant's record and reputation, are such that the applicant will not be likely to act in a manner dangerous to public safety and that the granting of relief would not be contrary to the public interest."

Your request for relief from federal firearm disabilities indicates that you are subject to the federal firearm disability in 18 U.S.C. § 922(g)(l), which prohibits individuals from possessing firearms if they have previously been convicted in any court of a crime punishable by imprisonment for a term exceeding one year. Having reviewed all the relevant facts, including that your prior conviction was for an offense that was neither violent nor associated with violence; that substantial time has passed since the completion of your sentence (including the successful completion of any period of parole or supervised release); that you have not been arrested for or convicted of any additional disqualifying crimes since your disqualifying conviction; and that there are no other facts indicating that you are likely to act in a manner dangerous to public safety if allowed to possess firearms. I have further concluded that relieving you from the federal firearm disability under Section 922(g)(l) is not contrary to the public interest. Accordingly, pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 925(c), I hereby grant you relief of the federal firearm disability imposed as a result of your prior criminal conviction.

You are cautioned that this action provides relief only with respect to the federal firearm disability arising from your prior criminal conviction. It does not relieve you from any firearm disabilities to which you may be subject under state laws, territorial or tribal laws, or local ordinances. Nor does it relieve you from any federal firearm disability you may incur in the future, such as by sustaining an additional conviction for an offense punishable by a term of imprisonment exceeding one year. Please note that it may take up to one business day for this grant of relief to be reflected in the FBI's firearms background system (NICS). Notice of this relief will be published in the Federal Register in accordance with 18 U.S.C. § 925(c).

Sincerely,

Pam Bondi
Attorney General
